

A BEAUTIFUL SETTING for your most special day

Make your own history in a timeless New Orleans gem

Imagine starting your life together in a classic New Orleans mansion that's steeped in history and culture — where famous movie stars, musicians, political figures, (and maybe even a kindly ghost) have walked the halls since 1879.

Where the original furnishings mingle with modern comforts in an atmosphere of elegance and privacy.

And where, just beyond our tranquil courtyards, the legendary fun of the French Quarter spills over into the rockin' music scene of Frenchmen Street.

Whether you're eloping alone or inviting your favorite people to come celebrate, everyone loves a good time in New Orleans.

With its unbeatable location and gorgeous photo ops in every courtyard, parlor, and balcony, the Lanaux Mansion isn't just a venue for your wedding — it's the opening scene for the most timeless love story of all. Yours.

And don't worry. This doesn't need to be stressful at all. We make that Big Easy vibe even easier to reach by helping you plan your details and managing your event from start to finish.

Plus, when the knot is tied and the party winds down, you'll come back to one of our cozy private wedding suites for some much-deserved pillow time.

Got friends and family coming? Let's see about booking the whole mansion to keep them close, too.

CELEBRATE in timeless elegance

Welcome to the one and only Lanaux Mansion

Step into our lavishly decorated parlors, where original furnishings—including a grand piano that's been making beautiful music for 175 years—set the stage for your picture-perfect wedding.
